THE JOB: RUBY DEVELOPER

Our programmers change the world one great product at a time. If you're a Ruby developer, this is the chance you may have been waiting for since you picked up your first Commodore 64. (Or programmed your first app. We're not ageist.)

Send us your resume if you can:

- Dig through and solve problems other programmers can't.
- Build UX-savvy admin interfaces.
- Research and test software functionality and performance.
- Out Google-fu your peers.
- Score up ticks on your Stack Overflow answers.

This is a full-time position based in Dublin, OH.
You must be willing to pass a criminal, financial, and drug screen background check.

THE PERKS

- A flexible vacation policy.
- Flex hours. Wanna work four 10s? Sure.
- Health, dental, vision and retirement benefits.
- No drama, stable company.
- A full fridge of snacks and fun Hebocon scrimmages.
- The best learning environment in town.

THE NEXT STEP

Send your resume in PDF format, along with salary requirements and a link to a GitHub, BitBucket, or other developer account/profile if you have one.
